National Kidney Foundation

The National Kidney Foundation (NKF) a nationwide voluntary health agency dedicated to the eradication of diseases of the kidney and urinary tract, today announced the establishment of a local affiliate in the state of Washington.

The foundation whose programs are nationally recognized in the areas of research, professional and public education and patient and community services established the new affiliate to aid the more than 260,000 people in Washington who suffer from kidney and urinary tract diseases.

The agency which will be headquartered in Seattle will operate under the name of National Kidney Foundation of Washington.

Among the supporters of the new agency is Mrs. Sally Gorton, wife of U.S. Senator Slade Gorton (R-WA), who will serve as a member of the agency's board of directors.

Teresa Rattazzi, M.D. Mrs. Slade Gorton Paula Hanson

"I'm delighted to become associated with this distinguished group of citizens and with the thousands of other volunteer working throughout the U.S. to conquer these diseases," Mrs. Gorton said.

"Medical and other scientific researchers have made great progress in recent years. That's to the benefit of us all who either suffer from kidney related diseases o have loved ones or friends who do. And that's also the reason why more of us who care must do our part to help in the work of these wonderful researchers. It will be through our combined efforts that we one day will reach our goals.

The National Kidney Foundation with 50 affiliates nationwide, was instrumental in the passage of legislation that provided for Medicare coverage for dialysis and transplant patients and is the national leader in disseminating information on organ donation through its National Organ Donor Program

Black Dollar Day

The NAACP will conduct its second annual Black Dollar Day Demonstration during Labor Day week to educate black consumers and to dramatize to the business community the immense purchasing power of black consumers. NAACP Executive Director Benjamin L. Hooks announced today.

The demonstration will be held from September 1 through 8 across the country. However, particular emphasis will be placed on the following cities where blacks are concentrated in large numbers: New York City, Washington, Baltimore, Richmond, Va., Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, Miami, Jacksonville, Fla., Memphis, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Houston/Beaumont, New Orleans, Atlanta and Cleveland.

During that week NAACP branches will urge blacks and their supporters to spend $2 bills and Susan B. Anthony dollar coins when making purchases.

Black Dollar Days is part of the NAACP's Fair Share movement which seeks economic justice for blacks and other minorities, Mr. Rasheed said. "White businesses have long reaped the benefits fo black buying power. Now, that wealth must be shared with the black community.

Washington State Nurses Assoc.

In a precedent setting decision the Honorable Jack Tanner, United States District Court, Western District of Washington at Tacoma, has found that the Washington State Hospital Commission tried to illegally control and influence the outcome of the collective bargaining practices of the Washington State Nurses Association (WSNA).

According to the judgment handed down July 27, 1984, it is, "ORDERED" that defendants shall forthwith cease and desist from any involvement in the collective bargaining process between the Washington State Nurses Association and those hospitals which are regulated by defendants.

In 1982, the Commission began setting limits on increases in employee wage and benefits, which included nurses. In meetings with hospita representatives, the Commission encouraged the hospital to negotiate limited wage and benefit increases with hospital employee union, including WSNA. The Commission had tried for several years to limit salary increases at or below 5 percent.

WSNA filed suit in August 1983 against the Commission citing the Commission's interference with WSNA's ability to bargain collectively ad that the Commission violated the National labor Relations ACt. Federal law guarantees labor and management freedom to bargain the terms of labor agreements without interference of state government. In effect, the Commission used its powers and influence to management's advantage in the collective bargaining process.

The Washington State Nurses Association is the professional association and labor union for registered nurses in the State of Washington. As a collective bargaining agent, WSNA promotes the professional development of nurses and advances their economic and practice concerns. Founded in 1908, WSNA is a constituent o the American Nurses Association.

Duzan Is Right McDermott Is Wrong

The 'small business' column is today's Wall Street Journal clearly points up the differences between Governor Spellman and his two Democratic opponents in their attitudes toward job creation, Spellman said.

Spellman said he agrees "wholeheartedly" with the views that Seattle hign-tech entrepreneur Stephen Duzan expressed to WSJ columnist Eugene Carlson -- that high taxes and a lack of sales tax deferral on new plant construction hurt small businesses, the job-producing backbone of the economy.

"In November, 1982, Washington voters had the good sense to vote for jobs and against a 10-percent corporate income tax proposal put on the ballot by McDermott "

"The difference between me and my Democrat opponents is crystal clear on this issue," Spellman said.

A Better Child Support System

In some states today, it can take months just to schedule a hearing date for a child support case. Legal delays can deny children the very necessities of life. Under the new law, every state must have expedited procedures for child support orders.

The new law makes other changes as well. It puts new emphasis on high performance by state and local programs, and it restructures federal financing to reward effective performance.

It puts new emphasis on serving all families, non-welfare as well as welfare.

In addition, the new law helps states overcome one of the chief stumbling blocks in years past; collecting payments from parents who move to a different state. And it requires state guidelines to help determine fair and adequate support awards.

The new changes, advocated by President Reagan and now passed by Congress, are an excellent reform package. Now comes inplementation by the states.

State legislatures must quickly pass their own bills putting the new provisions into effect. In addition, my department will help states improve program management.

Millions of American children have, for years, had to swallow a double dose of deprivation: justice delayed and justice denied. This new law changes both the climate and the mechanics of child support enforcement in our country.

With prompt action and commitment by the states, these reforms should brighten the present and the future of American children from coast to coast who deserve the economic justice the new law provices.

Abortions

The Committee ot Repeal State Funding of Abortion have stated that a new measure to allow the Legislature to authorize medical services only to prevent the death of a pregnant woman.

Initiative 471 is being promoted by extremist groups who would stop state funding of abortion immediately, no ifs, ands or buts.

This initiative would discriminate against poor people and women, and the courts would not allow it,

The issue is that taxpayers under the present situation have no choice in the funding of abortion. We want the taxpers to have that choice. It's time for the government to solve social problems through compassion rather then extermination.

It will be very interesting to see if the initiative will be successful.

HAVE YOU BELIEVE OUR REPORT?
SERIES #45
ISAIAH 53: 1&2

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a root out of dry ground.

He hath no form nor comiliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

WORDS OF WISDOM
ISAIAH 42

Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles.

He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto gruth. He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.

Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house. "I AM THE LORD: THAT IS MY NAME: AND MY GLORY WILL I NOT GIVE TO ANOTHER, NEITHER MY PRAISE TO GRAVEN IMAGES." Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them. Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein ; the isles, and the inhabitants thereof. Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains. Let them give glory unto the Lord, and declare his praise in the islands. The Lord shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry, yea, roar; he shall prevail against his enemies. I have long time holden my peace; I have been still and refrained myself: now will I cry like a travailing woman, I will destroy and devour at once.

Possums Are Clean

At one animal museum, a mother possum and her dozen babies were brought in miserably dirty because they had been kept in a small filthy cage. All that could be seen of the babies were small dirty tails hanging from the mother's pouch. The manager put them in a good-sized cage with plenty of food and water, and decided that it would be a week before the tired hungry mother could get herself and her family cleaned up and fit to be seen by the public.

Four hours later when the manager looked in, she was startled. There was the possum family, as clean and tidy as if they had always lived in the nicest of surroundings? Five of the babies were playing on their mother's back, each nose, tail, and toe as clean and pink as a rose. The small tails still hanging from the pouch were like pink fishing worms, and the old possum herself was scrubbed to the last hair. The food hadn't even been touched yet. As far as the mother possum was concerned, cleanliness was much more important.

Cleanliness is important for people too -- not only for the outside of them, but for the inside as well. Whoever prays, "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me," Psalm 51:10, and means it, will be cleansed of his sins by Jesus' own blood - and Jesus Himself will come to live in the clean, new heart.

One Week Left To Register Voters

"Register Here to VOTE. It's good for the country" are the words from a sign in the window of a faded-burgundy building housing Joe Stortini's campaign headquarters.

Inside the former law office, the energetic Italian registers voters himself.

And no one knows better than Joe that Saturday, August 18, is the last day people can register and be eligible to vote in the September 18 Pierce County primary.

He said, "I believe it's our democratic duty to register and vote." As a state senator, Joe sponsored and fought for 18-year-old voting rights in Washington state. He wishes more would register. The former high school civics teacher called voting the "backbone of democracy."

NW Girlchoir Fall Auditions

The Northwest Girlchoir, Rebecca Reitz, director, is currently holding auditions for new members. Girls in second grade through age 13 are invited to audition. Call, 329-6225 for an appointment.

The Northwest Girlchoir is a choir school in four divisions which provides girls with progressively graded choral training. The girlchoir performs several concerts and sings before a variety of audiences. The Touring Division, official Ambassadors of Goodwill for the City of Seattle and the State of Washington, recently returned from a concert tour of Germany, France, England and Wales.

The Northwest Girlchoir can be heard on Friday, August 31, in the Center House of the Seattle Center where they will perform as part of Bumbershoot festivities.

Food Banks Need Storage Space

A plea for more food would be real, but this is not just another notice that food banks need more contributions of food and cash. In fact, the food bank coalition in Pierce County, THE EMERGENCY FOOD NETWORK, is desperately in need of new warehouse and office space. The Network must vacate its home of 2 1/2 years (it has actually been rented!) by August 15th.

We're in need of 10,000 square feet of dry, securable storage space with a docking facility. Foundation support will cover utilities and insurance, but we need this rather incredible charitable donation to keep operating.

At this point, we know we will be unable to accept a donation of 42,000 pounds of carrots by Operation Blessing of the 700 club if new space is not located.

Questions can be referred to Jeannie Darneille, Director of the Emergency Food Network, 588-1887.

Walk To A New Life

Walking is man/woman best medicine. People who take good brisk walks every day do not any convincing. It is a perfect exercise for people of any age. Walking doesn't require mush exertion yet it provides many of the benefits that more strenuous sports do. Walking has many other virturs. You don't need any equipment (except a good pair of walking of shoes). You can walk with friends or alone, as your mood dictates. You can go at your own pace, for as long as you want, whenever you want.

Walking reduces stress and tension. When feeling tense or angry, many people take a long walk to simmer down or cool off. They seem to know, instinctively, what is good for them. The medical profession confirms their good instincts.

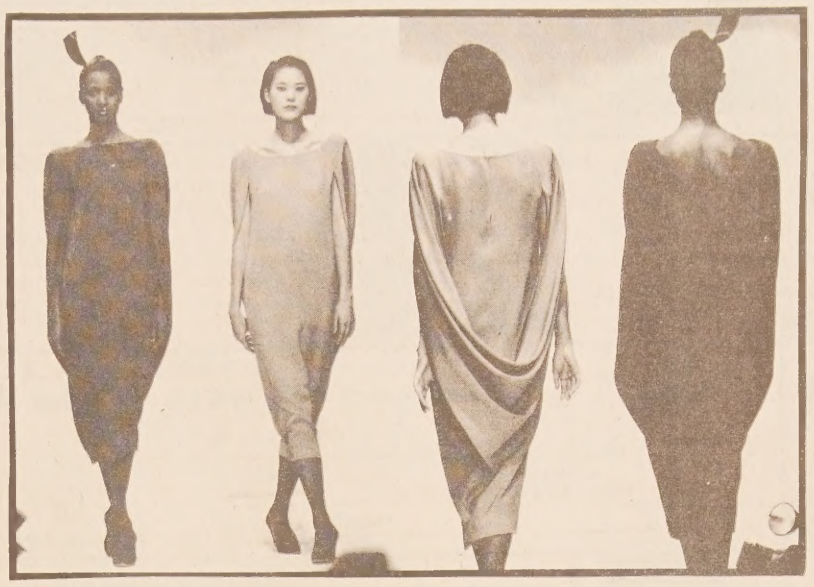
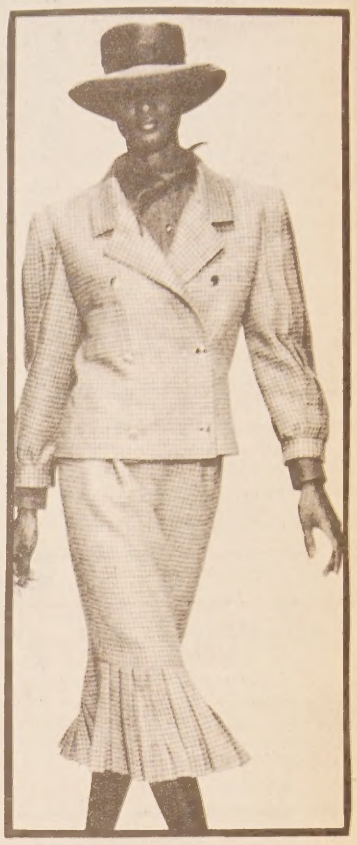
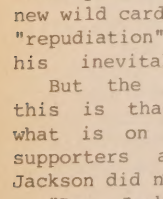
Walking offers other important physiological benefits.

To walk healthfully, keep these tips in mind. Be sure your shoes are comfortable and provide good support.







Tony Brown's Comments

Farrakhan - The New Wild Card

The political fortunes of Jesse Jackson continue on their precarious course. On the same day, he wqas dealt a double blow: one by his party's nominee and one by his controversial, so called 'surrogate.'

Minister Louis Farrakhan moved the Black agenda back to the front burner in Democratic politics and proved that Jesse Jackson's rebuke of his support has not dimmed his status as a media star.

He also laid claim to the nationalist segment of Jackson's constituency as, perhaps America's first street corner power broker by exploiting Jackson's inability to capitalize on the wave of Black frustration and anger that propelled him into power and political prominence. Meanwhile, Walter Mondale says that he does not want Jackson as a power broker for Black people.

Farrakhan, despite Jewish protest and extreme security measures, packed Washington's prestigious National Press Club. The sold-out crowd and jammed-to-capacity press galleries heard Farrakhan repeat his previous assaults on Israel, Zionism and alledged Jewish dominance in American politics. That part of his speech was predictable.

But his "Poor Jesse, poor Jesse," litany accused Mondale of exploiting Black voters and portrayed Jackson as a pathetic victim. "... You prevailed upon my brother to repudiate me on the basis of your lies. You frightened his staff to urge this upon him or you threatened you would not let him speak at the convention.

"You forced him to apologize to people whom he owes no apology. You mistreated him and...left him and those whom he represents out in the cold waiting for a signal that they may enthusiastically work for the Democratic ticket."

Jackson's expected presence as a head table guest of Farrakhan helped create an interest in the event. Farrakhan explained his absence by saying Jackson was officiating at Aretha Franklin's father's funeral. Jackson's secretary said, according to press reports, that Jackson never intended to come. Besides the funeral was six days later.

Farrakhan's speech at a forum reserved for foreign leaders and leaders of the American political establishment marked his entry into this year's presidential sweepstakes as the new wild card. His status proves that Jackson's "repudiation" of his statements won't halt his inevitable march as a media event.

But the political implication of all of this is that Farrakhan is saying in public what is on the minds and lips of Jackson's supporters and Black Mondale supporters: Jackson did not deliver.

"Rev Jackson is still seeking a signal from Mr. Mondale that will increase his enthusiasm and the enthusiasm of the masses of Black democratic voters to work hard for his election," Farrakhan siad.

"In my judgement, Mr. Mondale has already sent his signal...he does not intend to honor his debt to Black people who helped him get the nomination and whom he needs to get elected, he added.

While avoiding direct criticism of "his friend and brother," the message is implicit. Likewise, is his obvious offer of a new leadership and a new direction for Jackson's follwers. In short, Farrakhan is asking Blacks not to vote in November.

On the following day Mondale sent Jackson an unmistakable "signal." Here in Mississippi where he is wooing the White conservative vote he said about Jackson: "I want his help, but I don't need any brokers."

Mondale's press secretary repeated the rejection of Jackson's desired role: "Walter Mondale does not need a broker between himself and Black America. Jesse Jackson does not need to perform that role or broker for us."

Mondale also made it clear that his Black broker would be Rep. Charles Rangel who was named as the top-ranking Black in Mondale's campaign, in charge of voter registration and hiring other Blacks. Mondale had demonstrated that his longtime supporters will get preference over Jackson's.

In Jackson, Mississippi as he opened the first leg of his southern foray, Mondale boasted of his defeat of Jackson's effort to eliminate second primaries in nine southern states. "I think we've demonstrated respect for the institution of the South," he boasted. "States have a right to pass judgements..." He maintained that this stance would not hurt him with Blacks.

Meanwhile, Jackson assigned himself a role in Mondale's campaign to register voters and turn out the vote. But it is clear that he has lost the ground that he took by energizing Black involvement.

In Farrakhan's case, he is riding the anti-establishment horse that Jackson as a new insider will not dare straddle. Farrakhan is re-introducing the Black agenda that made Jackson popular in the first place.

Unemployment Wrecks Economy

Too many people have been brainwashed into beliving that unemployment is a necessary evil and that you can't have full employment without wrecking the economy.

Both are lies. No evil is necessary, least of all unemployment, which can be solved through a variety of means ranging from rebuilding our nfrastructure to public service job creation

And rather than wrecking the economy, full employment can save it. It is high unemployment that wrecks the economy and leaves people and machines idle and unproductive. It is high unemployment that robs the government of tax dollars and costs the Treasury billions in social expenditures.

It has been estimated that the recent recession -- the one everyone but the many millions of jobless Americans says is over -- cost our economy some one trillion dollars in lost production. That's a permanent loss -- one that represents a decline in our economic base that vcan never be recaptured.

If we had a full employment economy last year, the gross national products would have been $400 billion higher and the deficit, due to higher tax revenues, would have been $125 billion lower.

Although the government says unemployment is down, over 8 million people are officially considered unemployed. But there are also some 6 million discouraged workers and 2.5 million involuntary part-time workers. So the real unemployment rate in America is double the official rate.

And it is concentrated among blacks and other minorities. Unemployment is a prime cause of the hardships faced by the black family. Twenty-five years ago, 75 percent of both black and white men were working. In 1982, about the same percentage of white men were working, but only 54 percent of black men had jobs.

Unemployment is not colorblind -- it has a differential effect on the black community. The black worker is far more vulnerable to joblessness.

Not simply because blacks are still in the last hired, first fired ctegory, but because discrimination, lack of educational and training opportunities, and employer resistance to hiring blacks is so strong.

Anyone concerned about the rise of single-parent families in the black community doesn't have to look further for the reason. Men without jobs and the ability to exercise their economic responsibilities can't raise families, a problem worsened by welfare rules that refuse help to two-parent families.

So unless we take into account the special needs of the most vulnerable of the unemployed -- the black Americans who are hit hardest by unemployment -- then we aren't really dealing with the problem.

We can have implementation of the Humphrey-Hawkins Full Employment Act, job creation and all the rest of it -- and still find high black unemployment due to employer discrimination, union barriers, and educational and health handicaps traceable to poverty.

Any alliance for securing full employment must understand the black stake in the issue. It must understand that the black unemployed have been frozen out of the system and have had their needs subordinated to the agenda of others. It is now time for their needs and their agenda to be paramount.

We have too often seen the plight of blacks used to help others enter into positions of advantage. It is now time that our alliances begin to work for us too. Our needs have been neglected for too long; our aspirations denied for too long, our misery extended for too long.

PSALMS 144

Blessed by the Lord my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight: My goodness, and my fortress; my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and he in whom I trust; who subdueth my people under me. Lord, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him? or the son of man, that thou makest account of him? Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away. Bow thy heavens O Lord, and come down: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke. Cast forth lightning, and scatter them: shoot out thine arrows, and destroy them. Send thine and from above: rid me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of strange children; Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood. I will sing a new song unto thee, O God: upon a psaltery and an instrument of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee. It is he that giveth salvation unto kings: who delivereth David his servant from the hurtful sword.

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

It's A Small World Afterall!!

The Claire Hammons Miniature Guild presents their fourth annual Miniature Festival, featuring northwestern artists, on Labor Day weekend at the Museum of History and Industry.

Noteworthy artists such as Hermania Anslinger and Tom Poitras will display their intricately carved miniature furniture; Wes Hart, a jeweler by trade, known for his "cinderella carriage," will bring his beautiful crafts in silver and gold; and Ted Roubal, a glass blower, metal worker, and expert in electronics will dazzle his viewers with his working steam and gasoline engines, and elegant glass lighting fixtures.

These particular artists will be featured during the weekend and will hold special demonstrations of their skills during the festival. They will be joined by over forty miniaturists from the entire west coast, whose wares will be for sale.

The festival will open 10 - 5 p.m. September 1, and noon - 5 p.m. on September 2. Admission is $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children.

For more information, contact Stuart Grover at MOHAI, 324-1126.

"Dissolution" What You Should Know

"What you should know about Dissolution," a legal information pamphlet, is available free from the Washington State Bar Association.

Produced as a public service, the pamphlet provides practical information about the many considerations involved in dissolution. The publication explains different procedures for ending a marriage and outlines the dissolution process. Other sections discuss child custody and support, financial considerations, property division and the roles of lawyers and the courts.

To obtain a free copy, write to "Dissolution Pamphlet," Washington State Bar Association 505 Madison Street, Seattle, WA 98104. Requests should include a legal sized (#10) self-addressed, stamped envelope.

"OSHA Handbook For Small Businesses

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration has prepared an addendum updating "OSHA" Handbook for Small Businesses," the Labor Department announced today. Single copies are free.

The one-page addendum includes revised addresses and telephone numbers for consultation services and OSHA regional offices and notes other program changes since the 1979 version of the booklet was issued. It can be inserted in the 51-page booklet or readers may write in changes in the wide margins of the publication.

"OSHA Handbook for Small Businesses," OSHA 2209 was written for small firms which may not have the resources to employ their own safety and health professional staff. The booklet provides guidelines to enable employers to develop a safety and health program and to conduct their own workplace inspections.

it also lists additional sources of help including free occupational safety and health consltation services funded primarily by OSHA and provided by state authorities.

Copies of the addendum and "OSHA Handbook for Small Businesses" are available from the OSHA Publications Office, Room 6003 Federal Office Building, 909 First Avenue, Seattle, Washington 98174, telephone (206) 442-7620.

How to play.

Pick up a free Lotto play slip at any On-Line Games Agent. The play slip is divided into 10 games, each with a field of numbers from 1 to 40.

Decide how many games you want to play. You play two games for a dollar, and can play up to 10 games on a single play slip. The minimum play is one dollar.

Pick 6 numbers out of 40 for each game you play. Using pen or pencil (not red), mark the 6 numbers you've selected on the play slip for each game. Games must be played in pairs. You receive two games for each $1 played.

Hand the completed play slip to your On-Line Agent. The agent will enter it into the Ticket Distribution Machine, which will print out a Lotto ticket showing the numbers you selected, the drawing date, and the amount you played. The agent will return your play slip for possible future use.

Check your ticket. It is your responsibility to check your Lotto ticket to make sure it corresponds with the numbers you selected. Be sure to keep your ticket until after that week's drawing, as proof of purchase.

Quick Play option. If you prefer, the On-Line computer will randomly select six numbers for each game you wish to play. Just tell the Agent you want a "Quick Play" and state how many games you're playing.

How much you can win.

Evergreen Lotto is a parimutuel game, so the size of the jackpot depends upon how many people play. If more than one person wins, they share the Jackpot equally. The Lottery guarantees that the cash value of the First Prize Jackpot will be at least $500,000, no matter how many people play.

It could grow into the millions—all for the person (or to be divided equally among the persons) who match in any order all 6 winning numbers.

The second prize share is divided among all players who match 5 out of 6 winning numbers in any order and the third prize share is divided among all those who match 4 out of 6 winning numbers in any order. These prizes are determined by total Lotto sales and number of winners each week.

All prizes with a cash value of $250,000 or more will be paid in the form of a multiple-year annuity.

How to collect your prize.

Winning amounts will be announced to the public through the media and On-Line Sales Agents every Monday at 9 a.m. Prizes of up to $600 can be collected at any On-Line location. Winners of larger amounts must file a claim form with the Lottery. Forms are available from any Lottery Agent.

Lotto — Probability of Winning — Lotto

VA Percentages Are Rising

The Veterans Administration announced today that it is raising by one-half percentage point the funding fee collected by VA in connection with all guaranteed or direct loans closed on or after August 17, 1984.

VA Administrator Harry N. Walters said the increase, from 1/2 percent to one percent, is made in accordance with requirements of the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984.

Walters said the only exceptions are loans made to veterans receiving VA compensation for service connected disabilities, or to surviving spouses of veterans who died in service or as a result of a service-connected disability.

The one percent funding fee must be collected in connection with all types of VA-guaranteed loans, including refinancing loans and interest rate reduction refinancing loans, home improvements loans, Graduated Payment Mortgages, Growing Equity Mortgages, and loans with buydown plans.

Car Accident

That unexpectant car accident which we all go through sooner or later is usually physically and financially painful. In our modern day society of rushing, schedules, meetings, sports events all rolled into one many times lead to errors in judgment. Car accidents occur from 5 mph to even 55 mph and can result in death or only a scratch.

The first emotional reaction is usually some type of shock. This may cover up injuries which can take days or even weeks to discover.

During this shock phase of physical injury is very important that you don't wait for the pain but have a thorough examination to discover inuries and obtain correct treatment before the often agonizing pain occurs.

Why or How could an accident become your lick day? Many times the little health problems (i.e., the headache, neck, shoulder, low back, leg pains etc.) we just wait and hope they go away. These are bodily weakness that can be further injured and often severely during an auto accident.

Chiropractors are now the treatment of choice for most soft tissue pain, spinal injury (whiplash) resulting from a car accident.

Treatment given for injuries from a car accident once successfully "cured" can improved the overall health far superior to the health or lack of health to before the car accident.

Fortunately, auto insurance in most cases pay 100% of all charges of Chiropractic care.

An Open Letter To Sea-Tac Teenagers

Dear Editor,

I read with interest your statements that there is nothing to do; and its often said we "don't care."

First of all let me say we love you. However love is a two way street. When we try, meet us halfway at least.

Fourteen years ago a man who loved his State and Town started a Summer Camp for all children who wanted to attend regardless of race, creed, or religion.

Since Bishop Altheimer has gone on to be with the Lord; some are trying to carry on his works. In this area, we have tried for two years to have a Camp for the teenagers. No one cooperated last year but you said give you another year. We tried again this year, but we need your cooperation. Since you do not like the Camp established for the younger children we made this your own special Camp.

Now we must charge a $25.00 fee, because our State bills us for each child we take to Camp. We all volunteer to make your Camp experience enjoyable.

Some think the Churches make a profit from Camp, not so, the Campis named just for the Man who started it. Don't you think this is fair?

Whoever reads this, you are Welcome to our Camp. Youth Camp at Ft. Flagler is July 30th to August 4th. Teenage Camp is August 27th to Sept 1.

For further information and applications call me at 627-0412

This will be an experience you won't forget plus you'll meet new friends at Camp. You have until August 20th to register.

Remember we love you and this is your Camp

God Bless you, Sis Geraldine Merriweather

Warning For Senior Citizens

Insurance Commissioner Dick Marquardt today (August 7) warned senior citizens and others relying on Medicare for a portion oftheir medical insurance that the federal program does not cover medical expenses incurred when they are out of United States Territory.

Marquardt said he has received a number of calls from people who were taken ill or had an injury while vacationing out of the country.

"They thought Medicare would provide coverage and found out too late that it does not," the Commissioner explained, adding, "Now they are burdened with some pretty heavy medical bills."

Seniors should check their existing Medicare supplement insurance to see if it offers worldwide coverage. Some do. If it doesn't, they will need to shop for temporary medical coverage for their trip.

There are special short-term coverages for the traveler, and senior citizens who plan to vacation out of the U.S. would be wise to ask their agent, broker or travel agent to help them find one to cover them for the short period they are abroad, Marquardt said.
